

Village Open Spaces Turvey

Turvey is located in the far west of the Borough, adjacent to its border with Buckinghamshire, formed by the River Great Ouse. Surrounding meadows are included within its floodplain. Turvey is an historic village characterised by a wide use of limestone. The majority of the village is included within a conservation area. Turvey has two general stores (one includes a post office), two pubs, a church, a lower school and a village hall. There are six village open spaces / views in Turvey.
